

Jennifer Harshman

Speaker - Writer - Editor

Bio

Jennifer Harshman has read more books than most people ever even see, is a genius and widely knowledgeable and yet so friendly, down to earth, and cheerful. Unless she told you, you'd never know she's been through unspeakable horrors or that she suffers from constant chronic pain. She learned she had a gift for editing when her third-grade teacher secretly begged her for help. Despite disabilities in herself and her homeschooled children, Jennifer's been writing and editing professionally since 1992—everything from brochures to books. With more than 200 books and 30 million words edited so far, she loves helping people just like you to make their dream come true. A few of her editing credits are NYT Bestseller 48 Days to the Work and Life You Love, USA Today bestseller The Millennial Whisperer, and a book that hit #1 in the entire business category on Amazon: The Bezos Letters.

Alternative:

Upbeat overcomer, language lover, and agency owner Jennifer Harshman taught herself to read and write when she was just three years old and hasn't stopped, consuming nearly 19,000 books so far. She began editing professionally in 1992, polishing more than 200 books and 30 million words since. When she's not working with words and leading her team, Jennifer can be found with her family: coping with disabilities, homeschooling, playing with paint, or tooting a flute.

Possible outro:

To contact Jennifer Harshman and sign up to receive a stack of goodies to help you with your nonfiction content creation or repurposing, just visit HarshmanServices.com. She'd love to talk with you and share resources with you whenever she's not fulfilling her roles as a homeschooling wife, mom, and the book dragon with a big appetite.

Talking points:

You're an open book and have survived a lot of terrible things, so please tell my audience a little about that.

Some of the things you've lived through sound like fiction. How did you survive, how are you sane, and why don't you hate everyone and everything?

Tell us about 2006, when doctors told you to go home and die and how my listeners can avoid that situation.

One of your former pastors literally taught your husband and other men to be abusive to their wives and children? That's crazy.

What are some of the things you've taught yourself, and how can my listeners do the same?

Why do you say that almost everyone wants to write a book and that they can?

What are content marketing, content management, and content repurposing; which ones should my audience members be using; and why?

Where are you in life now? How can our listeners create the life they love?

What parting message would you like to leave my listeners with?

(With the right resources and attitudes, you can do amazing things!)

Topics:

- ✓ The importance of reading and how to make time for it
- ✓ Writing/Editing/Self-publishing
- ✓ Productivity/Time management/Discipline
- ✓ Overcoming abuse, homelessness, and other struggles
- ✓ Mindset and some brain research relating to psychology, habits, etc.
- ✓ Homeschooling, especially while running a home-based business
- ✓ Standing up for others and doing the right thing no matter what the cost
- ✓ Plenty more—just ask!

Contact :

✉ Jennifer@HarshmanServices.com

🌐 www.harshmanservices.com

f facebook.com/jennifer.harshman